Welcome to the 2017 Youth Weekend Retreat!

The Youth Weekend Retreat is offered to registered or community clients of March of Dimes Canada and Holland Bloorview Kids Rehabilitation Hospital.

Group member's participation is strictly voluntary. Information suggesting immediate risk of physical harm to oneself or to others, and suspicion or disclosure of child abuse or neglect will be reported to the appropriate authorities. Aside from the proceeding exceptions to confidentiality, the information that is shared during the Youth Weekend Retreat will be treated as confidential by all facilitators.

The Youth Weekend Retreat occurs in the community and youth will be staying overnight at a leadership training and conference centre. Youth will be making independent choices while attending the retreat.

There are risks associated with participation in community services.

For example: ambulating throughout the leadership training and conference centre, using elevators/stairs, and sleeping in a bedroom alone.

There are times throughout the Youth Weekend Retreat when there is less staff supervision such as during the overnight and free time. During the overnight, staff have rooms nearby the participant's rooms, and can provide support if required.

Safety procedures will be discussed and practiced at the beginning of the weekend.

I have read and understand the above information. I consent to taking part in the Youth Weekend Retreat.
