

LET'S TALK DISABILITY & SEX

A workshop to discuss sexuality for young people with disabilities.

A team from the Bloorview Research Institute is hosting a virtual workshop to connect young adults with disabilities, parents of children with disabilities, healthcare workers and researchers.

The aim of this day is to:

- Bring together young adults with disabilities, parents of children with disabilities, healthcare workers and researchers
- Create an accessible resource that will help start the conversation on sexuality
- Share the research on sexuality and disability
- Come up with new research questions and identify poorly understood problems

WHEN

The event will occur virtually on April 28, 2021
from 9 AM to 2:30 PM
(EST)

For more information, please visit our website at hollandbloorview.ca/connection-day or email Madison Giles at mgiles@hollandbloorview.ca