

Participate in Research

Evaluation of a tool on workplace disability disclosure discussions for employers and managers

Principal Investigator:
Sally Lindsay, PhD

The logo for TRAIL lab, featuring the text "TRAIL lab" in a white, serif font on a green background with abstract white and green shapes.

TO ASK QUESTIONS OR TO SIGN UP, CONTACT

Sharmigaa Ragunathan

trail@hollandbloorview.ca
Phone (416)425-6220 x 3635

Date Posted: March 24, 2022

Deadline: August 2022

Are you an employer or human resource personnel is interested in hiring people with disabilities?

Consider participating in a study about evaluating an evidence-based toolkit that was co-developed with employers to help employers and HR personnel engage in disability disclosure discussions.

What is this study about?

We want input from employers and human resource personnel as we evaluate evidence-based toolkits on disability disclosure discussions and inclusive workplace environments.

Who can participate?

We are looking for:

- An employer or human resources personnel (i.e., hiring manager, HR manager, etc.) with experience and/or interest in hiring people with disabilities
- Willingness to be audio recorded

What's involved?

- A focus group via zoom (approx. 1.5 hours) and/or
- A survey (approx. 30 minutes)

Potential Benefits?

- There are no direct benefits of participating, but it may help us to learn about how our interventions enhance disability awareness/sensitivity.

Participants will receive a small token of appreciation to thank them for their time.

REB #: 20-879