Are you a parent/caregiver of a client who has received virtual care? Are you interested in sharing your virtual care experiences?

What is this study about?

We are doing a research study at Holland Bloorview to get families' feedback on technology access, confidence in using technology, opportunities for improvement, and hopes for the future of virtual care at Holland Bloorview.

Who can participate?

We are looking for parents of Holland Bloorview clients (up to 21 years old) who have received any type of virtual care (ex. assessment, consultation or intervention service) at Holland Bloorview or one of its community school sites since March 2020.

What's involved?

- Completing an anonymous online survey to share your virtual care experiences
- An overall time commitment of about 20-30 minutes
- For more information and to access the survey please scan the QR code below

What are the benefits of participating?

- Results of the survey may inform recommendations for a hybrid model of care in which virtual care becomes part of best practices at Holland Bloorview
- We hope that virtual care can help reduce barriers and support equity in access to health care for clients at Holland Bloorview

Participants will receive a small token of appreciation to thank them for their time.
