

Promote disability inclusion in your school community

Resources & professional development for educators

Social inclusion benefits every learner. We share examples and tips that promote inclusion of students both with or without identification. Make us part of your professional learning plans this year!

1. Join a virtual presentation & discussion. Click here for dates, times and to register for one or more topics:

- Mindset & enablers for social inclusion in schools.
- Teaching & practicing self-advocacy skills.
- Promoting disability awareness in your school community.
- Beyond academics – inclusion practices for students with non-visible disabilities.

2. Invite us to customize a session for your school or school board team.

- We personalize workshops based on your interests and needs (scheduled timing, duration, content emphasis, etc.).
- Joint sessions with Rick Hansen Foundation are also available.

3. Visit our School Inclusion Hub to:

- Check out our open-access e-learning modules and facilitator's guide.
- Learn about our student presentations led by a lived experience facilitator.
