Disability advocacy is my life raft. Without knowing how to advocate for my needs, I wouldn't have gotten anywhere in life. Disability advocacy is survival. It is paving your own way in a world not built with you in mind.

For the future of advocacy, I hope that disabled individuals will be considered in major issues alongside others, instead of as an afterthought.

– Jillian